

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

McLean, VA, April 7, 2008 / PRNewswire-FirstCall

Omnis, Inc., as part of a team of contractors led by Science Applications International Corporation, today announced it was awarded a contract in December 2007 by the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA). This multiple-award, indefinite-delivery/indefinite-quantity contract will support the Solutions for Intelligence Analysis (SIA) program. The maximum dollar value for all task orders that can be awarded to prime contractors, including the Omnis-SAIC team, under this five-year contract is $1 billion. Work may be performed at DIA locations nationally and overseas, and will be issued by DIA out of the Washington Metro area.

Under the contract, Omnis, Inc. will support the DIA mission with services in areas including foreign cultures, regional dynamics, illicit drugs, infectious disease and health, and emerging and disruptive technologies to provide effective analysis for the Defense Intelligence Enterprise.

"Omnis, Inc. is proud to be part of the team providing innovative solutions to the Defense Intelligence Enterprise," said Dr. Joseph E. Pesce, Omnis, Inc. CEO. "The SIA contract provides Omnis with a mechanism to assist with the customer's most pressing needs for the defense of our nation."

Omnis, Inc. is a consulting firm based in McLean, VA specializing in research and analysis, training and education and threat finance and market intelligence.
